

Cookies

Please be aware that our website uses cookies to store basic data on your interactions with our site. We use a cookie to remember your log-in for you if you are a registered user and assist you in interacting with Social Media, and our CRM, we deem these as being strictly necessary to the working of the website. If these are disabled via your browser then various functionality on the site will be broken.

- About cookies

A cookie is a file containing an identifier (a string of letters and numbers) that is sent by a web server to a web browser and stored by the browser. The identifier is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. Cookies can be used by web servers to identify and track users as they navigate different pages on a website and to identify users returning to a website. Cookies may be either “persistent” cookies or “session” cookies. A persistent cookie consists of a text file sent by a web server to a web browser, which will be stored by the browser and will remain valid until its set expiry date (unless deleted by the user before the expiry date). A session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

- Cookies on this website

We use session cookies on this website. We will send to you the following cookies:

- (1) PHPSESSID – Cookie generated by applications based on the PHP language. This is a general purpose identifier used to maintain user session variables. It is normally a random generated number, how it is used can be specific to the site, but a good example is maintaining a logged-in status for a user between pages.
- (2) WordPress Logged in data (wordpress_logged_in_, wordpress_) – WordPress uses cookies, or tiny pieces of information stored on your computer, to verify who you are. There are cookies for logged in users.

- How we use cookies

Cookies do not contain any information that personally identifies you. We may use the information we obtain from your use of our cookies for the following purposes:

- (1) to track you as you navigate our website;
- (2) to improve the website’s usability;
- (3) to analyse the use of our website;

- Third party cookies

When you use our website, you may also be sent third party cookies. Our service providers may send you cookies. They may use the information they obtain from your use of their cookies:

- (1) to track your browser across multiple websites;
- (2) to build a profile of your web surfing;
- (3) to target opportunities which may be of particular interest to you.

- Blocking cookies

Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies. For example:

(1) in Internet Explorer you can refuse all cookies by clicking “Tools”, “Internet Options”, “Privacy”, and selecting “Block all cookies” using the sliding selector;

(2) in Firefox you can block all cookies by clicking “Tools”, “Options”, and un-checking “Accept cookies from sites” in the “Privacy” box.

Blocking all cookies will, however, have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites.

- Deleting cookies

You can also delete cookies already stored on your computer:

(1) in Internet Explorer, you must manually delete cookie files (you can find instructions for doing so at <http://support.microsoft.com/kb/278835>);

(2) in Firefox, you can delete cookies by, first ensuring that cookies are to be deleted when you “clear private data” (this setting can be changed by clicking “Tools”, “Options” and “Settings” in the “Private Data” box) and then clicking “Clear private data” in the “Tools” menu.

Doing this may have a negative impact on the usability of many websites.
